

Spring Traditions Come Together at The Palace

Every Spring around the world, Christians celebrate Holy Week as Jews celebrate Passover, both with their message of renewal and hope. So it was especially appropriate when Palace residents came together for a dual “Easter & Passover” celebration with family and friends.

Our Passover Seder sat over 250 of us together as we retold the ancient story of the exodus. Then two days later, we gathered for an Easter Mass in the garden, followed by a buffet lunch and an Easter Egg Hunt. One of the joys of Palace living is sharing traditions and holidays with our neighbors, families and friends.
